NEWS FROM THE PRESIDENT

As I sit at the computer searching for thoughts to write an article about, I reflect back on the recent meeting discussion of “Who are we and where are we going?” I would like to thank everyone who attended and contributed. Your participation insures the future viability of Central Florida Pleasure Divers. Out of that meeting has come the rebirth of the Membership Committee, the Program Committee and Dive Trip Committee which is assembling an itinerary that will give CFPD a stellar reputation of quality in the years to come. Each of these committees brings an integral part of what makes CFPD what it is to the table.

Additionally, as we have discovered in the past, there are many areas of interest shared by the membership that may not be totally dive related, but fit very well into the social aspect of CFPD. I urge each and every member of CFPD to become more involved in the club activities as the rewards and friendship are what make up the fabric of CFPD. For example, I realize Central Florida is a well populated area with it’s shared of traffic. However, when I spot a CFPD plate on an approaching vehicle there is an instant recognition of camaraderie, friendship and love of diving.

Dive Chairman Report

Check it out! The dive calendar for 2006 contains several new trips. I'm happy to report that the dive planning meeting was very productive. It is so nice to see some of the newer members getting involved with running trips. Lee Carpenter and Art Beaulieu both volunteered to organize weekend trips to South Florida.

The trip to Clearwater run by our secretary Sam Juleff promises to be a fun adventure. This will be the first Clearwater trip that the CFPD has had in the 6 years that I've been a member. Join Sam Juleff on her trip and enjoy the added convenience of having a dive location that is new and closer than most of our usual diving locations.

There are two remaining lobster hunting trips scheduled for this year. Randy Monroe has organized both of them. These trips are so much fun! The lobster hunting brings a new dimension to diving. The added bonus is that the drive to the site is relatively short with no hotel fees involved. I recommend that the newer divers get some experience before tackling this challenge. The dives are deeper and the water is a little cooler than West Palm Beach area.
