NEWS FROM THE PRESIDENT

HAPPY NEW YEAR!!

By the time you read the Scoop, I can say, if you missed the CFPD Christmas party, you missed one of the best parties CFPD has had in a long time. Of course, I can say that because I had an inkling of what was planned for the Christmas party. Not to worry, if you missed this year's party, the next one is not even 365 days away!

The social activities this year rival anything the club has seen in years. A social is planned each month and the turnout for these socials so far has been excellent. The board is betting that the more we socialize out of the water, the more we will dive with new friends we have made as a result of these activities. If you see a social that interest you, we need volunteers to help run them. Call Sam and let her know. Our wetsuits off to Sam Juleff and her committee for all the work and planning that it takes to run these socials.

Not to be outdone, Lee Carpenter, your membership chairman, and Darryl Ricket, your dive chairman are stirring things up with new ideas for new members and old alike, new and different prizes for the 50/50 and dive trips to please everyone. If the mediums and spiritualist, from Cassadaga no less, are right, the upcoming year will be nothing short of amazing. Check the Scoop calendar for all the great events planned.

In closing, the club is still looking for a new meeting place since we have outgrown Denny's. If you have any ideas, let one of the board members know.

Sea you down below,

Randy

VP Article

People come into your life for a reason, a season, or a lifetime. When you figure out which one it is, you will know what to do for that person.

If someone is in your life for a REASON, it is usually to meet a need you have expressed whether you realize it or not. They may have come to give you support or guidance or to help you through a difficulty. They are there for you emotionally, physically, or spiritually. They are there for the reason you need them to be there. Then without any wrongdoing on your part they are gone. Sometimes they die, or they walk out or they force you to leave. Realize that your need has been met and it's time to move on.

Some people come into your life for a SEASON, because your turn has come to share, grow, or learn. They bring you an experience of life, or love, or peace, or just make you laugh. They may teach you something you have never done and give you an unbelievable amount of joy. Believe it, it is real. But only for a season.

LIFETIME relationships teach you lifetime lessons. These are the things you build upon in order to have a solid emotional foundation. Your job is to accept the lesson, love the person, and use what you learn in all other relationships and areas of your life. It is said that love is blind but friendship is clairvoyant.

All of these relationships can be part of your experience at Central Florida Pleasure Divers if you stop and think about it for a minute and let yourself be part of the fun we have.

See ya on the boat.

Why do elephants have big fat feet?

To stomp out burning ducks.

DIVE CHAIRMAN REPORT

Upcoming trips include the Blue Grotto on January 14 (an excellent chance to refresh your dive skills) and our annual Jupiter lemon shark dive on January 20. Maybe this time we'll actually see some lemon sharks. Thanx to Elke and George for coordinating these trips. I'm sure we'll have fun regardless of whether there really are lemon sharks or not.

February brings us another trip to EPCOT and a dive in the 5.7 million gallon aquarium known as the Living Seas. Look also for a trip to a manatee excursion to Crystal River on February 10th.

March brings us a scavenger hunt and a barbecue at Blue Springs followed by a Lobster dive in New Smyrna Beach.

Future dives are planned for West Palm Beach, Boynton Beach, and Fort Lauderdale as well as trips combined with Ocean Fest and other social activities. And of course, there is our Nekton Cayman Island trip set up for June (now open, see the newsletter for details).

Check out the calendar and let the committee know if you see something you like. If you have ideas or suggestions for other dives, let us know and we'll try to get something set up. One suggestion has been made for a trip to the Hedonism resort in Jamaica, so we'll be taking a look at that in the near future.

A big round of thanx to the Dive Committee, (Elke, Sam, Larry, Lee, and Lani) for their help in putting together the dive calendar and their support for all the dive and club activities.

What did Tarzan say when he saw the elephants coming over the hill?

Here come the elephants over the hill.

See ya on the boat.

* BREAKING NEWS ****

Today, on the first day of 2007 the club has adopted Nick, a manatee from Blue Spring State Park.

Nick was first identified in 1977 (the year CFPD was established). His unusual behavior (kinda like us going out in 6ft seas or jumping off a boat in the middle of the ocean), such as traveling north when all the other manatees are heading south (who hasn't been navigationally challenged under water!?), has earned him the nickname "Crazy Nick".

Watch for more information about Nick, Save the Manatee Club and how CFPD is going to actively support the quest of saving the manatees in upcoming Scoops.

Return to Cassadaga.

Isn't it quite fascinating to learn about new and different things and believes? With this in mind it came about that Darryl Ricket, Jamie Martin, Jill Mulford, Lani Berry, Jan Munro and Sam Juleff shared my curiosity and joined me on December 17th to attend a Sunday church service in Cassadaga. We all had been with the group who toured this small town in October learning about the history of Cassadaga, spirits and orb photography.

We arrived early and some of us took the opportunity to attend a healing service in the Caesar Forman Healing Center, a cozy pavilion adjacent from the temple.

Aside from hymns and prayers the church service at the Colby Memorial Temple consisted of a guided meditation, a lecture by Rev. Tom Berkner, who is a medium from Cassadaga and a musical interlude. Towards the end of the service a few of the attendees, randomly chosen, were given messages from the Reverend. I was one of the lucky ones.

After the service we had a nice lunch at the Lost-In-Time-Café in the rustic Cassadaga Hotel before carpooling back to Sanford where we had met that morning.

It was an interesting experience to learn more about spiritualism and to find that the camp member's believes are based on the same believes that we all have.

CFPD Christmas Party 2006

We had a great turnout for our 2006 Christmas Party held at the VFW Post 5405 in Winter Springs on December 9th. Our Master of Ceremonies was our own Sam Juleff. She started us off by calling numbers for door prizes that she called with the help of Darryl Rickett all through the evening. There were so many door prizes collected by Lee Carpenter that everyone was able to take one home and even exchange for another if they didn't like the one they picked.

The most festive holiday attire worn to the party was a very pretty short skirt worn by Bea Bookos that had blue Christmas lights wrapped around her waist that showed through the skirt when they were turned on. Geoff Juleff was also very festive with his lighted reindeer antlers that were passed around the room during the evening.

The shuttle Discovery lifted off while we were at the party and everyone ran outside just in time to see the launch and watch the rocket boosters drop off. What a beautiful sight.

Cont'd ...

The food was wonderful and there were so many good desserts brought by the members, that most of us had to try at least three or more. (Or was that just me?)

Lani Berry led the balloon relay game and team number one won by a long shot. All the lucky swift footed winners received a gift certificate for Darden Restaurants.

Lee Carpenter raffled off a brand new aluminum tank donated by Seminole Scuba for $2 a ticket and Steve Greenwell was the lucky winner.

The gift exchange was as lively as usual with some great gifts to fight over and some white elephants that no one could get rid of. Sorry guys. Janet Fisher did not really get a chance to get too attached to her gifts. They almost went faster than she could unwrap them. In all she made FIVE trips to the table with the gifts!

Thanks go out to Seminole Scuba, Wet-N-FLA, Gander Mnt., Scuba Diversions, Pool Rescue, and Kissimmee Pro Dive for contributing all of the door prizes that were given out at the party. We really appreciate all their support.

SCUBA DIVERSIONS

"The Friendly Dive Store"

Join us when we descend into

BLUE GROTTTO

We will meet at Blue Grotto in Williston/Ocala on

Sunday, January 14th 2007

Time: 9 AM Cost: $33

Due to the short notice full payment holds your spot and is due no later than January 4th, 2007.

“Blue Grotto is a cavern system great for OW divers. One of the more unique aspects of Blue Grotto is their fresh air filled "bell" at 30 feet that is a novelty many divers enjoy checking out. This air bell is constantly being supplied by a compressor, so you don't have to worry about CO2 retention. While in the bell, you can look through the glass at the people swimming above you while you are just talking to your buddies without a regulator. You can explore the open cavern system without any more than open water certification ... Permanent heavy duty guidelines tour through the entire system with a maximum depth of 100 feet. There is a large area for picnics and outdoor sports, although the tables are usually used to set up your dive gear. The water is a constant 72 degrees year round. There are showers, changing areas, and a full service dive shop on site.”

Interested?? Let's go!

We will have our own gazebo with tables reserved and will be meeting a group of divers from our “out-of-state-connection” Down Under Surf and Scuba (DUSS) in Raleigh/NC. Usually the “BBQ-Guy” comes by on the weekends offering some lip-smacking pulled pork sandwiches for lunch (cash only).

Tanks are $15, refills $10 or less depending on how many refills are needed within the group.
Of course you can always bring your own tank.

The Quest for Lemon Sharks CONTINUES!

Every winter lemon sharks congregate off Jupiter, according to Jupiter Dive Center. They even put information and links about the sharks on their website, <http://www.jupiterdivecenter.com/>. I'm a little skeptical. I know lemon sharks exist, I've seen one – in the Key West aquarium – but I think their presence off Jupiter might be fable. I've been on afternoon dives to search for the sharks without success on days when people from the morning dives claim to have seen them. So, this time we're diving in the morning.

Even if we don't see any lemon sharks we can treat ourselves to a nice lunch afterwards; and give thanks that we live in Florida where we have warm (sort of) salt water in the winter to dive in and friends to do it with.

Member = A person who belongs to a group or organization, a distinct part of a whole.

Central Florida Pleasure Divers would like to welcome three new members:

Kate Lakin, a new diver with the willingness to dive as much as possible with her busy schedule. Welcome Kate and we hope to see you on the boat!

Wade and Jamie Martin, new to the Orlando area have made almost all C.F.P.D. meetings and a good number of social & diving events this year. Welcome to the club you two are a lot of fun!

Our club has new membership cards with scuba shops supporting us! Seven scuba shops stepped up and offered us discounts, we need to be sure to support them as they are supporting us with party favors, and prizes to be presented during dive trips and events.

Please be sure to order your membership t-shirts for the New Year to match your new membership card when you renew your club membership by January 31st 2008!

I would like to propose a membership committee for those of you interested in membership drive. I would like to have a quarterly membership drive to sign up new members and to get our name/logo out and visible in dive shops, area clubs, social events and dive sites.

I am working diligently on an annual scuba gear sale involving all area scuba shops to participate in sponsored by our club.

The dive season is open I am headed down to the Keys to check the water and expect to see everyone at the next meeting?

Cheers and Happy New Year!

New Member Bio

My name is Kate and I moved to Orlando from Delray Beach Florida this year back in August. Previous to living in Delray Beach I lived in Virginia where I worked at large software corporation as a facilities manager. I decided a few years back that I needed a "big" change and that the "water" was calling me.

A little over a year ago I moved to Delray Beach where I decided to take a year off from work and pursue hobbies that had always "peaked" my interest. In Delray Beach I learned how to "Sky dive" and weekly went to a "Surf Instructor" where I learned to complement my future sport of "Scuba diving."

Though I am a still a "Fairly New Guppy" I have realized just how much I love the water and miss seeing the ocean as I had the opportunity to see everyday.

I have dived only locally around Miami, Ft. Lauderdale and Delray Beach area's. I joined the "CFPD" to hopefully gain a new variety friends with whom I can go diving with. (I lost my "dive buddy" back in Delray Beach where I was initially certified.) Currently I reside in the Metro West area. I am working as a Business Manager for Nsight Coaching. (A psycho-therapist group for celebrities, sports figures and high-level executives.) In addition to Nsight Coaching I work at Bally's sport and fitness a few days a week.

Due to my pretty busy schedule it is very difficult for me make a lot of free time for my diving and social meetings. But my New Year's resolution this year is to become more active in my "clubs" and social settings. I look forward to attending the fellowship meetings and hopefully accompanying a dive trip in the near future.

Thanks for allowing me the opportunity to introduce myself. I look forward to meeting everyone!
